On 25 May 2015, a representative from the National Agency of Civil Servants attended the ceremony of awarding the title of Doctor Honoris Causa (DHC) to Professor Maria P. Aristigueta, director of the Institute for Public Administration at the University of Delaware, USA and president of the American Society for Public Administration.

The event was attended by academics in public administration and students of the faculty.

The ceremony was preceded by a workshop dedicated to teaching and research standards in administration and public policies.
