NACS promotes the efficient response of the public administration in the context of COVID-19

This year, the National Agency of Civil Servants (NACS) will adapt the traditional format of the Competition of the Best Practices in the Romanian Public Administration, due to the current context determined by the COVID-19 pandemic. Thus, the 13th edition of the Competition will consist in the elaboration of a Guide of Good Practices that will include the innovative and efficient measures that have been adopted by public institutions and authorities to respond to the crisis generated by the pandemic, such as: support for citizens or vulnerable groups, prevention measures etc.

In this regard, we would like the efforts of the public administration to be known and appreciated as models of response to those crises that affect our society as a whole. Therefore, we invite all public authorities and institutions that have implemented sustained measures in response to this unprecedented situation to join NACS's approach to identifying these initiatives, and to send us a brief description of them by the end of June, to comunicare@anfp.gov.ro, which will be subsequently detailed on a standard structure, suitable for the Guide.
